Primary School Mathematics

'Number' Strand Spotlights in the Primary School We have recently introduced a new number scope and sequence in our Primary School. It is built upon the New Zealand Number Framework and has the main goal of promoting quality teaching and improving student achievement in Number and consequently other strands of Mathematics. The revised curriculum document aims to provide greater consistency and clarity across the Primary School and focuses on developmental growth in order to address the learning needs of individual students. It places greater emphasis on solving number problems mentally and choosing critically from a range of strategies, rather than rote learning and written algorithms. Overall, we believe that these updates will deepen our understanding of each child's Mathematical knowledge and reasoning skills, which in turn will enable us to focus on their personal learning needs.
